Hunting:

Stalking and high-seat hunt. We are using 4x4 pickup trucks for reaching the actually most wild game frequented areas, then stalk or set up on high-seats based on what is the best hunting technique for the given species and season.

Earlier the season we usually hunt in the morning and late afternoon hours, taking a break in between, while later on the season we hunt all day weather depending and having a packed lunch out there. We adjust the daily routine to the daylight, weather conditions and our hunters' preferences.

We show our respect for the game and congratulate to hunters traditionally, then celebrate the success in an old-fashioned way as centuries before.
